

We have been chosen

I have been hearing a lot of people about their lives, some of them have terrible problems, you may go back and forth with your lives and examined and by being honest with yourselves, you will find yourselves very blessed from the Lord. Children that have lost their parents, there are a lot of that cannot walk, cannot hear, cannot speak cannot see and The List can be very long. And if you don't have any of these disabilities surely you will find yourselves very blessed.

For these reason we are chosen ones

We are chosen to praise the Lord and to thank the Lord for all the blessings that He has given us. We are chosen to share the Good News to those that does not know. We are chosen to help the others that need help need love, so they can count as blessing that comes from God.

We are continuing on our routine on building redemptive relationships, we are glad with the relationship that we have now with Klodi, it is very a good relationship, bit by bit he is asking questions on what we are doing.

Wednesday Bible Class

On last Wednesday we finished the Series of Lessons about "Holiness" Edi concluded his series of lessons, also he made a quick review of lessons what we have been studied. Our next topic will be "Offense" I will be teaching this class. This coming Wednesday we are not going to do Bible Class because I am going to the summer camp and am going to be teaching there for the whole week.

Sunday Worship Service

We are gathered this Sunday to Worship the Lord. I preached from Ephesians 1:3-12. We are chosen ones for the God glory to share the gospel with our sphere of influence everywhere that we are we should be different from the others to share the treasure that God has given us since it has for the whole world for all of those that Believe, Repent , Confess and baptized in the name of Jesus Christ .

Prayer Requests

Pray for Edi, Edi hurt his neck on Friday, we went on the beach with one of friends Edi jumped into water and there was deep enough, He hurt his neck and Doctor said he has to stay on bed for 3 weeks also to keep neck holder to protect the neck not to do any move that will hurt more.

Pray for all the members most of them have been out on vacation, which has made the attendance on Sunday to go down. Pray that will help them to make priorities.
